Community of Artists

P1

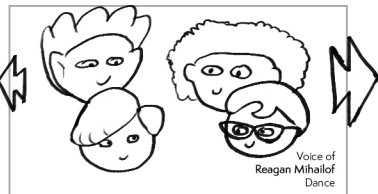

"The Community of Artists are members of the College of Visual and Performing Arts that reside..."

Simplified characters holding instruments, paintbrushes, etc. Camera pushes into and past them to reveal cartoon of Trinkle Hall.

... in Trinkle Hall where we will host multiple events or gatherings or activities."

Stylized sketch of Trinkle Hall. Zooms into window of building to reveal next frame.

"The beautiful thing about the community is that you are mixed and mingled with all of these people of the same college for different majors that you might not meet otherwise from your classes."

Cluster of diverse heads appear, smiling at each other. Camera pulls back to reveal heads on painting canvas.

"And I love that feeling of artistry - you know - oh yes, someone's singing, someone's dancing, someone's, you know, playing their instrument. I love that feeling and I love just being around artists."

Camera continues to pull back revealing characters singing, dancing, playing instrument.

"Everyone's doors were always open and everyone was always popping in to say 'hey' and we'd always meet out in the hallways - it was just a very open and inviting environment that I really enjoyed."

Camera trucks right following person walking down hall waving at people through doors and in hallway.

"I'm not a very social person and being a part of the Community of Artists has definitely given me the opportunity to meet people that I wouldn't really get to see on a daily basis..."

Student at computer under glass dome. Hand lifts dome and student heads appear and high-five.

...Making those friendships and having those memories and having those connections has really made my experience here unique."

Photos of student with friends flash on the screen.

"I love that we have this opportunity. I didn't know how to apply for scholarships. I didn't know what buildings were what. I didn't grow up in this academic sphere and so I love that we come together as artists..."

Student looks side to side as cloud with question marks and buildings surround.

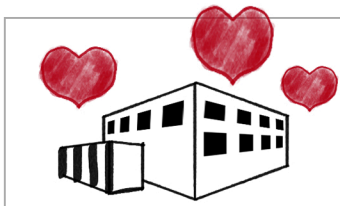

... but we also make even deeper connections in a community by showing students 'hey you're not alone, we all tripped up at the beginning' or 'we all didn't know what we were doing' but we're here to help one another..

Cloud dissipates and other student heads are there patting student on back.

... and that's my experience with it and I hope to continue it on for the rest of my time here at Radford because I truly do love it."

Trinkle Hall dissolves in with hearts.

RU Logo appears. Music fades out.
